

G20: What's The Big Deal? ☺

Thanks to trillions in taxpayer-funded bankster bailouts during this recession, most people know who runs the world. Now: we're trying to figure out what to do about their bosses. Mainstream stories like "Bilderberg 2010: Between the sword and the wall: The Catalan police are refreshingly friendly. But if the time for action comes, whose side will they be on?" in the London Guardian (5/Jun/10) reveal the worlds rulers just met in Sitges, Spain, like they have yearly since 1954 (BBC) to discuss "globalization", or centralizing their power. The Canadian media covered their meeting near Ottawa in 2006. See: the documentary film "Endgame".

Millions worldwide have, so anybody can just look into these issues. If they think the info is stupid, they can laugh at it. If they think it's smart, they can appreciate it. A Spanish police officer couldn't stand guarding the Bilderberg meeting and quit. Other cops said they didn't like them and were just doing their job. Our G20 "world leaders" are their "salesmen" used to convince us to "compete" in the "new world order". They could've held the G20 June 26 - 27th in a remote area to save Toronto the trouble. The $1 billion in "security" and big "protest" are just a traumatic slap in the face to the city. So...what should Canadians stand for before the G20?

In 1954, the U.S. Congress Carroll Reece Commission revealed that wealthy Americans only created the Ford, Rockefeller and other "foundations" to use "grants" to control "activism" and "academia" and let our problems get worse. It's the same worldwide. We can update the old "protest" or "rock concert" model that teaches well-informed people to get together, yell and go home. We can just calmly and consistently share our info instead.

In 2010, all Canadians are threatened by health risks, the recession and more. Since many people think this is heavy stuff: should Canadian men age 25 – 45 deal with it on behalf of women, children and the elderly? ☺

Anybody can try what's been working so far, or put up posters, hand out flyers and dvd's, take pictures, make videos, communicate online. We can share info to improve our health, wealth and relationships. We can use "inspiration" for more than just "entertainment". We don't have to discuss any of this if we don't want to. We can just pass on good info so that our fellow Canadians have the chance to see it. Calmly and consistently... ☺

WhatYouWantToBelieveIn.com

G20: What's The Big Deal? ☺

Thanks to trillions in taxpayer-funded bankster bailouts during this recession, most people know who runs the world. Now: we're trying to figure out what to do about their bosses. Mainstream stories like "Bilderberg 2010: Between the sword and the wall: The Catalan police are refreshingly friendly. But if the time for action comes, whose side will they be on?" in the London Guardian (5/Jun/10) reveal the worlds rulers just met in Sitges, Spain, like they have yearly since 1954 (BBC) to discuss "globalization", or centralizing their power. The Canadian media covered their meeting near Ottawa in 2006. See: the documentary film "Endgame".

Millions worldwide have, so anybody can just look into these issues. If they think the info is stupid, they can laugh at it. If they think it's smart, they can appreciate it. A Spanish police officer couldn't stand guarding the Bilderberg meeting and quit. Other cops said they didn't like them and were just doing their job. Our G20 "world leaders" are their "salesmen" used to convince us to "compete" in the "new world order". They could've held the G20 June 26 - 27th in a remote area to save Toronto the trouble. The $1 billion in "security" and big "protest" are just a traumatic slap in the face to the city. So...what should Canadians stand for before the G20?

In 1954, the U.S. Congress Carroll Reece Commission revealed that wealthy Americans only created the Ford, Rockefeller and other "foundations" to use "grants" to control "activism" and "academia" and let our problems get worse. It's the same worldwide. We can update the old "protest" or "rock concert" model that teaches well-informed people to get together, yell and go home. We can just calmly and consistently share our info instead.

In 2010, all Canadians are threatened by health risks, the recession and more. Since many people think this is heavy stuff: should Canadian men age 25 – 45 deal with it on behalf of women, children and the elderly? ☺

Anybody can try what's been working so far, or put up posters, hand out flyers and dvd's, take pictures, make videos, communicate online, etc. We can share info to improve our health, wealth and relationships. We can use "inspiration" for more than just "entertainment". We don't have to discuss any of this if we don't want to. We can just pass on good info so that our fellow Canadians have the chance to see it. Calmly and consistently... ☺

WhatYouWantToBelieveIn.com

G20: What's The Big Deal? ☺

Thanks to trillions in taxpayer-funded bankster bailouts during this recession, most people know who runs the world. Now: we're trying to figure out what to do about their bosses. Mainstream stories like "Bilderberg 2010: Between the sword and the wall: The Catalan police are refreshingly friendly. But if the time for action comes, whose side will they be on?" in the London Guardian (5/Jun/10) reveal the worlds rulers just met in Sitges, Spain, like they have yearly since 1954 (BBC) to discuss "globalization", or centralizing their power. The Canadian media covered their meeting near Ottawa in 2006. See: the documentary film "Endgame".

Millions worldwide have, so anybody can just look into these issues. If they think the info is stupid, they can laugh at it. If they think it's smart, they can appreciate it. A Spanish police officer couldn't stand guarding the Bilderberg meeting and quit. Other cops said they didn't like them and were just doing their job. Our G20 "world leaders" are their "salesmen" used to convince us to "compete" in the "new world order". They could've held the G20 June 26 - 27th in a remote area to save Toronto the trouble. The $1 billion in "security" and big "protest" are just a traumatic slap in the face to the city. So...what should Canadians stand for before the G20?

In 1954, the U.S. Congress Carroll Reece Commission revealed that wealthy Americans only created the Ford, Rockefeller and other "foundations" to use "grants" to control "activism" and "academia" and let our problems get worse. It's the same worldwide. We can update the old "protest" or "rock concert" model that teaches well-informed people to get together, yell and go home. We can just calmly and consistently share our info instead.

In 2010, all Canadians are threatened by health risks, the recession and more. Since many people think this is heavy stuff: should Canadian men age 25 – 45 deal with it on behalf of women, children and the elderly? ☺

Anybody can try what's been working so far, or put up posters, hand out flyers and dvd's, take pictures, make videos, communicate online. We can share info to improve our health, wealth and relationships. We can use "inspiration" for more than just "entertainment". We don't have to discuss any of this if we don't want to. We can just pass on good info so that our fellow Canadians have the chance to see it. Calmly and consistently... ☺

WhatYouWantToBelieveIn.com

G20: What's The Big Deal? ☺

Stand For Something ** Before ** The G20

Share Info That Canadians Should Know

If It Sounds Stupid - Laugh At It

If It Sounds Smart - Appreciate It

News: Infowars.com

Health: NaturalNews.com

Wealth: TrendsResearch.com

Relationships: The PinkCross.org

History: CuttingThroughTheMatrix.com

Vaccine Exemption Forms: VRAN.org

PressForTruth.ca

ConspiracyCulture.com

TorontoStreetNews.com

TorontoTruthSeekers.com

CanadiansForHealthFreedom.org

WhatYouWantToBelieveIn.com

G20: What's The Big Deal? ☺

Stand For Something ** Before ** The G20

Share Info That Canadians Should Know

If It Sounds Stupid - Laugh At It

If It Sounds Smart - Appreciate It

News: Infowars.com

Health: NaturalNews.com

Wealth: TrendsResearch.com

Relationships: The PinkCross.org

History: CuttingThroughTheMatrix.com

Vaccine Exemption Forms: VRAN.org

PressForTruth.ca

ConspiracyCulture.com

TorontoStreetNews.com

TorontoTruthSeekers.com

CanadiansForHealthFreedom.org

WhatYouWantToBelieveIn.com

G20: What's The Big Deal? ☺

Stand For Something ** Before ** The G20

Share Info That Canadians Should Know

If It Sounds Stupid - Laugh At It

If It Sounds Smart - Appreciate It

News: Infowars.com

Health: NaturalNews.com

Wealth: TrendsResearch.com

Relationships: The PinkCross.org

History: CuttingThroughTheMatrix.com

Vaccine Exemption Forms: VRAN.org

PressForTruth.ca

ConspiracyCulture.com

TorontoStreetNews.com

TorontoTruthSeekers.com

CanadiansForHealthFreedom.org

WhatYouWantToBelieveIn.com